Information for Master Applicants

Paderborn University

Paderborn University has a strong foundation in computer science and in the application of information technology across all disciplines. The “University for the Information Society” is located in an attractive, economically strong, and growing region with strong networks on a local, national, and international level. With 20,000 students and more than 2,400 employees, Paderborn University is a very lively educational institution, and its campus provides a friendly and green environment with excellent services for student life and research. Many attractive study programs, including Master programs taught entirely in English, are offered in Paderborn University’s five faculties.

Dynamic Region: OstwestfalenLippe (OWL)

With around 120,000 companies, OstWestfalenLippe in northwestern Germany is a region with an industrial focus, where business and science are closely connected. The collaboration of universities and a wide variety of high-performance companies makes OWL an important research location with over 65,000 students and more than 500 study programs.
